A change of form, but no loss of identity; that is metamorphosis. The life in the butterfly is the same life that was in the egg, the caterpillar and the chrysalis but the forms show wide change.

Love is a force in every human being, and passes through four well market phases from infancy to maturity.

The first phase is Narcissum or love of self. The second phase is object love, or the Oedipus complex, by which the young child extends his self love to include the mother or nurse as a part of himself. The third phase reaches a little farther out and and binds him, soul with soul, to a little comrade, or to the gang in general. The fourth phase finds him in the grasp of maturity, when self love is completely transferred into love for mate and child.

At the end of the first hour the market was quiet and at the highs. Fort Worth Cash Grain.
